PRESIDENT WILSON NOW CHAFES UNDER RESTRAINT IMPOSED BY PHYSICIANS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—After another good night President Wilson appeared cheerful this morning White House officials said and for the first time in more than a week expressed a preference for eggs for breakfast.

It is with increasing difficulty that Rear Admiral Grayson, his personal physician, keeps the president from taking a hand in affairs of state. The president has asked to see several persons, but neither Dr. Grayson nor Secretary Tumulty has been able to locate any of them.

The president told them they showed remarkable inability to find any one he wanted to see, adding that so far as he was concerned the "campaign of silence was at an end."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—With President Wilson's condition steadily improving, his physicians are having their hands full to keep his attention away from the duties of his office. They say that for the present, however, the prohibition against work will be enforced unless some matter urgently requiring attention develops.

The president also wants to read and while Dr. Grayson has permitted him to do so to a limited extent he is prevented from reading for any great length of time because the physicians fear there might be an injurious strain upon his eyes.

Although Dr. Grayson and the other physicians in the case appear very much encouraged over the progress made they are guarding against being too optimistic.

RAILWAY STRIKE IS DENOUNCED BY LLOYD-GEORGE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) LONDON, Oct. 8.—Premier Lloyd-George surprised his countrymen, as he frequently does by denouncing the railway men's strike as "Prussianism," and "another effort to hold up the community and strange it into submission." At Lord Mayor's mansion house luncheon in honor of Field Marshal Allenby, yesterday.

The occasion was an unusual one for such a topic, but the premier has a habit of doing unusual things at unusual times.

"The nation means to be master in her own house," Mr. Lloyd-George declared, "a just master, a fair master, a generous master, but always master in her own house."

This was naturally accepted as a proclamation of the premier's view that the government won a victory over the strikers.

J. P. Thomas, secretary of the national union of railway men and leader of the recent strike, speaking at Albert Hall Sunday night, dwelt upon the settlement as a compromise and yesterday issued a settlement appealing for reconciliation and a burial of hard feelings. Labor papers appear to differ with Mr. Thomas as to some aspects of the strike settlement.

AIRPLANES START UPON COAST TO COAST RACES; SIXTY FROM MINEOLA, FORTY FROM FRISCO

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Lieutenant J. B. Macfie, in a de Havilland machine equipped with a Liberty motor, was the first to get away in the coast-to-coast air race from Mineola to San Francisco and return at 9:15 a. m. today. Sergeant Jesse D. McClure accompanied him.

Two machines, all of which flew in a northwesterly direction, had left Roosevelt field by 9:50 a. m., maintaining a speed of 120 to 150 miles an hour.

An eleventh machine, No. 35, piloted by Lieutenant George C. McDonald, was forced to return as a result of engine trouble after going a short distance. McDonald expected to make a fresh start later in the day.

Because of the fine flying conditions army officials predicted many of the contestants would reach Cleveland by nightfall.

MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—More than 60 airplanes were lined up on Roosevelt field here today awaiting the signal of Major General Thomas H. Barry, U. S. A., which would send them speeding on their way to San Francisco in the greatest aviation contest in history. At the same time nearly two score machines were in San Francisco ready to start on the eastbound trip. The contest, which is limited to military aviators, is for the purpose of testing the reliability of the planes and stimulating interest in recruiting for the air service. A return flight also will be made.

and Italian machines also are entered.

Most of the American entries are equipped with the famous Liberty motor developed by America during the war and the race will afford a good opportunity to test its qualities against the best types of foreign makes.

Although prizes totaling $66,000 had been offered by the American Flying club and private individuals for the winners of the contest, Major General Charles T. Menoher, chief of the army air service has ruled that they could not be accepted.

He announced, however, that there would be ratings for three competitions each day. These include a time competition for the pilot crossing the continent in the shortest time, irrespective of stops and actual flying time; a speed contest for the pilot making the trip in the shortest flying time, and a handicap competition based on actual flying time but with each class or type of machine to be given a handicap percentage based upon its reputed speed as computed by the technical section in its official tests.

Under the rules of the contest there is to be no flying between sunset and sunrise, on Sundays or in bad weather. Each contestant will be required to stop at least 30 minutes at each of the 20 intermediate stops. Aviators remaining more than 45 hours at one station unless held there by the weather are to be disqualified. No time will be taken out for forced landings.

The route is approximately 2,700 miles in length one way. The official stops in Ohio are Cleveland and Bryan.

WILL ORGANIZE LEGION POST KENTON.—An American Legion post will be formed here at a war veterans' meeting Friday evening.

REDLAND FIELD, CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 8.—Weather conditions were ideal for the seventh world series game this afternoon between the Reds and White Sox.

At 1 o'clock Chairman Herrmann of the national commission issued a statement that he was sorry but that he had doubts about today's crowd exceeding 15,000 people. He said:

"It is impossible to handle such a large sale of tickets overnight. I do not think the attendance will be more than 15,000."

The Reds put in an appearance at 12:30 p. m., earlier than usual and displayed considerable "pep" both in the field and at the bat. Gerner and Ring served up the balls to the batters. The crowd began pouring into the bleachers at this time but the pavilions were very slow in filling.

Saltee took his place in the regular batting practice while Ruether also took whacks at the offerings of Ring.

The assignments of umpires follows: Quigley, plate; Nallin, first; Rieger, second; Evans, third.

The Chicago players appeared at 1 o'clock and began to swing the ball back and forth in front of their bench.

Crowds Wait for Tickets Despite the Reds' setback yesterday, the crowds that waited at the box offices of Redland Field to buy seats were of the same proportions as those that gathered there on the days previous. The lines stretched for blocks up and down the streets and several heated arguments had to be settled by the police. They were usual debates on the merits of the two teams as shown in yesterday's contest.

The Woodland Bards, famous Chicago rooters were in great spirits today. Their hopes had been revived and their purses, that had been somewhat replenished by the Sox victory of Tuesday, were opened and the Bards were demanding three more Red scalps.

All After Tickets Probably never before in the history of any world series has identical scenes been viewed as those that greeted down-town workers on their way to business this morning. Long lines of men, women and even children, stretched out at two places on the south side of Fountain Square all intent on getting tickets for today's game. A block farther south at a principal hotel, another line made the corner and then bent southward toward the river, while at the ball park the grand stand reservations were sold from the main office and a still longer line was made there. At one stage it conflicted with the bleacher and pavilion line and its routing was immediately changed.

ATTEMPT TO DESTROY A TIN PLANT AT M'KEESPORT; REDS ROUTED AT WEIRTON

Lima Dentist is Home Wearing French Citation

Wearing a French war citation, the "Fourragere" or "breast cord" for gallantry in action, Dr. H. E. Schedine, nephew of Dr. A. N. Bruzelius arrived in Lima last night. Dr. Schedine has been for some months past with General Pershing's famous first division, and paraded with that division in New York and Washington several weeks ago. He had been in the U. S. Army for the past 25 months, enlisting July 1917. A year and a half of that time was spent overseas.

Dr. Schedine was in both the St. Mihiel and Argonne drives from start to finish, but fortunately escaped without an injury. He was for nine months with the Army of Occupation in Germany, being stationed at one of the farthest outposts of the American army, 50 kilometers east of Coblenz.

Previous to entering military service Dr. Schedine who is a graduate of the Cincinnati Dental college was associated with his uncle, and had offices at 209 west North street. He will resume his dental practices with Dr. Bruzelius the first of next week.

Quick at Weirton WEIRTON, W. Va., Oct. 8.—The mill town was quiet this morning after yesterday's demonstration when 186 Finlanders, alleged to be members of the I. W. W., were made to kiss the American flag and were then chased out of town. The few Finlanders who were not rounded up after their names were found on cards which they had signed, when an old barn was raided by a platoon of 24 police, were preparing to leave the town today, after the announcement of a mill official that the Weirton steel company would employ no more Finlanders.

Attorney John Gardner, former prosecuting attorney of Jefferson county, Ohio has been engaged by the local branch of the Allied Mills Council to go to Weirton to investigate alleged charges that workmen who had refused to go back to work in the Weirton steel company's mills there, had been beaten and driven from their homes, yesterday. The Weirton mills were reported working good this morning, having resumed operations the first of this week after being idle one week.

ROME EXCITED BY WARNINGS FROM ALLIES

ROME, Oct. 7.—Much excitement in political circles and extended comment in the press has been caused by reported receipt of warnings from Great Britain and the United States to Italy with regard to the situation at Fiume. It is declared that the warning from England stated in effect that if the "present illegal" situation at Fiume should continue, Italy would run the risk of being put out of the alliance and the peace conference and that it was received a few days after a similar warning from the United States.

FOUCH TO BE PLAIN

Episcopalians In Triennial Meet at Detroit, Mich.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 8.—Faced by the need of dealing with a myriad of after-the-war problems and contemplating adoption of a far-reaching program of church work extension that will call for the expenditure of many millions of dollars, the clergy and laity of the Protestant Episcopal church of America will meet here today in their forty-fourth triennial general convention. They are here for the convention practically all of the 120 American bishops and nearly 4,000 clerical and lay representatives to the house of delegates and meetings of auxiliary church organizations.

Troopers Guard Town

Martial Law at Gary

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Federal soldiers and Indiana state militia men preserving order at points where violence had threatened, led to a betterment in the industrial situation in the Chicago steel district during the last 24 hours, according to mill operators today. They asserted that under protection of the military many additional employees returned to work yesterday and that more were expected back today. Strike leaders expressed themselves as satisfied with the steel strike now well into the third week and maintained that the workers ultimately would be victorious.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) PITTSBURGH, PA., Oct. 8.—An attempt was made to wreck the plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company at McKeesport early today when a missile believed to have been a bomb was thrown on the shipping department building. It exploded tearing a large hole in the roof of the structure. No one was injured.

The police believe the explosion was caused by a time bomb placed on the roof of the building.

Workmen on the night shift, at their posts directly under where the missile exploded, fled in terror when the explosion occurred and bits of shattered wood and glass were hurled in all directions.

Foreign residents of the district, panic-stricken rushed from their homes into the streets. The report of the blast could be heard for blocks and attracted hundreds of persons to the scene.

Although several hundred mill guards and police were rushed to the plant immediately after the explosion, no trace of the persons or person responsible for the blast could be found.

INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE FIXES RULES AND RESUMES ITS WORK OF PREPARING LABOR POLICY FOR UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—None of the groups being ready to present any business for consideration, the industrial conference adjourned this morning until tomorrow afternoon, being in session less than an hour.

Secretary Lane, chairman of the conference called on the delegates to get acquainted, instead of remaining rigidly separated in groups and adjournment was followed by a mingling of labor leaders, capitalists, farmers and publicists.

Rules Cause Delay

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—After having perfected an organization Tuesday the industrial conference called by President Wilson became tangled up in its own rules and adjourned until Wednesday.

Secretary Franklin K. Lane was elected to be permanent chairman. In his speech of acceptance he stirred the delegates, representing capital and labor and public to great enthusiasm by declaring that the high purpose of the gathering caused failure to be impossible in the efforts to harmonize industrial relations in this country.

When proceeding to the adoption of rules the conference struck its first snag in a protest by John Spargo, of New York a representative of the public, that the report of the Rules Committee made no provision for minority expression and was a "travesty" on free deliberation.

Criticism Causes Delay

His criticism caused early adjournment of the morning session to permit amendments to be formulated by the respective groups, but on reconvening the rules were adopted without material change.

They provide for public sessions and unanimous vote by groups on all conclusions and decisions, and require the assent of a group before any member of it can introduce a resolution.

A committee of 15 was named to recommend for or against all resolutions introduced, as follows:

Representing the public: Thomas L. Chadbourne, A. A. Landon, H. B. Endicott, Charles Edward Russell and Miss Lillian Wald.

Representing capital: S. Pemberton Hutchinson, John W. O'Leary, John J. Taskoh, Herbert F. Perkins and J. N. Tittlemore.

Representing organized labor: Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison, Matthew Woll, W. D. Mahon and L. E. Sheppard.

The employers' group under the rules was the only one ready with business. Frederick P. Fish, of Boston, offering a resolution declaring the need of the industrial situation was "increased production, adequate compensation for services and just return on capital," and that each delegate should be guided in his actions by the good of the country as a whole rather than by the interests of his particular group.

Adjournment Taken

Motion was then made to adjourn, which evoked quick protest from delegates who have been demanding strenuous action from the conference. Gavin McNab, San Francisco, a representative of the public, said he would offer another resolution in order that the conference might have something to do, but Mr. Spargo made a point of order that the resolution had not been presented to the group first, and Mr. McNab was forced to desist.

It then was suggested that the Committee of Fifteen conduct a meeting as a means of expediting business, but this was deemed to be unwise, as the committee members would be absent from the group meetings, and besides the Rules Committee had no business before it except the perfunctory election of its chairman.

REPORT LENINE UNDER ARREST; REDS DEFEATED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) LONDON, Oct. 8.—Advises to Helsingfors, Finland, report that Nikolai Lenin, the Russian Bolshevik premier, has been placed under arrest in Moscow, according to the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Copenhagen.

Lenine is said to have ordered the arrest of Leon Trotsky, the soviet minister of war but failed to secure this and instead was himself taken into custody.

A naval message forwarded by the same correspondent reports a reign of terror against the Bolsheviks in Moscow has been begun by a revolutionary party. In this movement the Bolshevik leader, Jacob Peters, is reported to have been killed.

Special dispatches from Stockholm September 20 carried a report that Premier Lenine was being kept prisoner in the Kremlin at Moscow and that People's Commissary Dzerzhinski was in power and directing the movement of the army.

Bolshevik Retreat

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Siberian city of Tobolsk at the junction of the Irtysh and Tobol rivers which was captured by the Bolsheviks toward the end of their eastward push against Admiral Kolchak's forces early in September was recaptured by Kolchak troops on October 5, according to an Omsk telegram received today in official quarters.

The naval flotilla of the all-Russian government on the British assisted in the capture, the advance state. Many prisoners and quantities of supplies were taken with the town.

A message from General Denikin's headquarters received October 7, reported the capture of 15,000 Bolsheviks during operations around Voronezh, but did not definitely announce the capture of that city. Voronezh is on a line about 125 miles east of Orel, toward which latter important center in old Russia General Denikin's troops were recently reported rapidly advancing. The late advices from the Denikin forces indicate that they are moving ahead against Moscow on a front at least 200 miles in width and probably considerably greater.

Georgia County Quiet After a Negro Lynched

MACON, Ga., Oct. 8.—No further outbreaks in Jasper county, where Eugene Hamilton, a negro, was lynched yesterday, was expected today, all reports agreeing that the 60 or more masked men, who shot the negro had separated and gone to their homes.

Hamilton, 30 years old, the son of a negro preacher, had been convicted and given a sentence of 10 years for an attempt on the life of Charles Tinsley, a Jasper county farmer. While an appeal for a new trial was pending, a mob spirit flamed up because of alleged delay in disposing of the case and it was decided to bring him to Macon for safekeeping. The negro was taken from the sheriff just before he reached here, carried back to Jasper county, tied to a bridge and his body riddled with bullets.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. This alone is enough to convince one that it is a medicine of more than ordinary merit. Give it a trial and you will find this to be the case. mon-wed-fri

ANSWER CRITICISM OF SOLDIERS' HOME

State Board Officials Say Conditions at Sandusky Were Never Better.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 8.—No complaints regarding conditions at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Sandusky, have ever been made to the state board of administration, according to H. S. Riddle, chairman.

Reports reaching the board, Mr. Riddle said yesterday, were to the contrary and indicated, he said, that conditions were never better.

Charges from examiners of the state auditor's department filed with Governor Cox yesterday alleged that criminals from the Mansfield reformatory were employed at the home as attendants, and that the inmates were compelled to give tips for slight services; that they lived in fear of the attendants and that thieving was common.

"There was never a time in the history of the home when we obtained as satisfactory service as we are getting from the boys assigned to duty there," Mr. Riddle declared.

Can't Pay for Efficient Help. "With the money allowed us, we never could obtain efficient help because we could not pay enough. The boys we are using at the home are employed in every capacity.

"They serve as attendants, work in the boiler and heating plants, and do labor about the grounds.

In the building of one fence alone, they recently saved the state $1,500, and in a year, their use will save $12,000.

"The boys are glad of the chance to do this work, and they take pride in their duties. It is considered an honor for it takes them away from the institution and gives them a change.

No Soliciting

"I have never heard of a case of their soliciting tips. Our greatest trouble has always been to keep the inmates from giving them money, of their own volition."

There is an average of 1,000 inmates at the home, board of administration officials said today, and of these, 250 are hospital cases. There are ninety-three prisoners from the Mansfield institution employed at the home, while the average salary paid male attendants at state institutions is between $35 and $50 a month.

His Old Home Town

GENERAL PERSHING'S proposed visit to his old home town is attracting more attention from a certain class of people than did the splendid welcome which he received in New York. We refer to the thousands of successful men throughout this country who came from just such country towns as Laclede, Mo., from whence comes the general.

But what a disappointment it will be to the general himself. How sad at heart he will be, as he rides through the muddy or dusty streets where in the long ago he tramped barefooted as a boy. How narrow they will seem to him, and how small the buildings that once loomed so great before him. He will find distances shortened; it isn't half as far from where he lived to the school house as he remembers it. The creek isn't as deep as it used to be, nor so wide. And those whom he remembers best—and loved the most—they have long since departed.

There used to be a character or two about the little town that the general didn't think much of—the chances are. Somebody said, an unkind thing to him once upon a time. And in his youthful heart, he thought of how, if ever he got to be a distinguished man, he would return and "lord it over" the unkind one. Well, he has passed away; there will be no one in the crowd that Pershing wishes to lord it over. Even the red-headed boy who was popular with a certain girl has probably gone to his reward. There is nobody in Laclede that Pershing will want to "get even with," at this late day.

No, the visit to Laclede will not be as charming to General Pershing as he imagines; neither will it be so charming to the people themselves, for with few exceptions they will not recognize in the great general the little boy they knew if ever they knew him. They will try to honor him; they will rejoice that such a man hails from their town. But the present population of Laclede will not be essentially different to Pershing, nor he to it, than any other town in which he was not born.

Democracy Is Imperiled

THOSE who content themselves with dreaming that all is well with this old universe, would do well first to consider the full meaning of what this implies. It would be easier, of course, to sit down and dream such Utopian thoughts. Eventually, however, there would come an awakening which would be both amazing and humiliating to the dreamer.

But Democracy, the finest essence of self government in the world, is imperiled. Neither the skillful words of the man who seeks to direct public sentiment in an opposite channel, nor the sad lament of the man who doesn't "give a hang" about how things are going, can very well change the situation.

Free institutions in America are menaced, and this is a serious situation, look at it from any angle you will.

President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale, has declared, and truthfully, that self government is impossible until ignorant selfishness is swept away by the flood of common sense and good judgment.

What kind of a spectacle have we encountered in this war-ravaged and weary world? Russia is still in a state of utter darkness and chaos. The sun doesn't shine very much in that desolate and abandoned country. Germany has passed through a test of flames, and the fire of revolution. Her condition of democracy is none too assuring. Hungary, proclaimed a republic, is emerging from the Bela Kun state of misrule. England and France are experiencing the temper of a restless people, eager for some kind of a change—they know not what.

What is to be America's answer? Are we going to throw caution to the winds and turn the whole nation topsy-turvy with national selfishness? Or are we preparing to point the way to a triumph for democracy? The immediate future now shrouded in painful mystery holds the secret.

French Leases

FRANCE doesn't propose to stand for profiteering in rents. She has done as much as other nations in the matter of profiteering in other things, but when it comes to rents she leads them all.

As a rule, houses and apartments are rented in France on long leases. The government has now decreed that all leases are to be continued for two years longer at the same rate. That is, if a lease expires now, the landlord can not put the tenant out of possession of the premises before October, 1921, nor increase the rent beyond that specified in the lease.

The object is more to protect the soldiers who served in the war than anybody else—but nearly all males in France were in the war. The government doesn't think it is fair to increase rents upon these people before they have time to readjust themselves to peace conditions. To be discharged from the service and go home and find a notice from the landlord that the rent has been advanced isn't a pleasant thing to contemplate, and France doesn't propose to stand for it. So she is giving the soldiers—and everybody else—two years in which to adjust their affairs to meet advanced rents—if the landlords then want to increase them.

GOOD EVENING—"A lot of people do a lot of worrying about what other people are thinking about."

We suspect that since this cruel war is over and the returning soldiers are becoming less numerous day by day, the steamer-movements column in the papers is by no means as popular reading among the girls of the country as it was for a time.

We have a notion that Heaven is going to be so different in the character of its population from what some people think it is that they will have to rent about a year or two before they find a location to suit them for permanent residence.

Emma Goldman is out and if she goes back to Russia, as her ticket probably reads, there will be a new revolution when she tries to tell Shoeshine and Bloodclotki how to run things over there.

Perhaps we ought to spend more time working and less time wondering but we find a wonder growing—what is going to make Milwaukee famous for now on?

"Salaries of Pastors Fixed," reads a headline. Grounded might be a better word.

HAPPY THOUGHT: Don't handicap yourself by worrying about the other fellow's business and tending to it for him.

"SHOCK" FROM BURNS REALLY HUNGER OF MUSCLES FOR AIR

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (John Hopkins University)

When a child is severely burned over a fairly large area of the skin, the little one often dies some hours or days later. There seems to be no great reason for this after the pain and inflammation have been relieved. There was no loss of blood, no hemorrhage. Death was due to "shock."

Shock sometimes drives older victims to the point of distraction as well as to death.

Prof. W. B. Cannon of the department of physiology, Harvard University, has shown much light on the mystery of shock. About 15 or 16 years ago it was discovered that bits of tissue or tissue extracts injected into the blood caused depressed blood force and symptoms of shock.

Last year two French army surgeons, Drs. Delbet and Quenel determined independently that the debris and torn bits of tissues at the place injured, burned or diseased produce destructive ferments or enzymes, which enter the blood stream and lower blood pressure, which in turn brings about a loss of the reserves of soda and other alkalis in the human fabric. This condition goes under the name of "acidosis"—or shock.

The acidosis of shock must not be confused with old wives' tales about "acid in the blood," "acid states," "uric acid" and other ancient absurdities long ago discarded.

"Air Hunger"—When blood pressure falls, the flow of blood becomes slower. Under such circumstances the number of trips of the red blood corpuscles between the lungs for fresh oxygen and the tissues is reduced five times to one.

Air hunger is the result. Rebreathing expired air, a decrease of fresh oxygen to the tissues, makes lactic acid instead of carbonic acid. The latter evaporates and is volatile. Lactic acid is not. It cannot be breathed away. Instead it "picks on" the soda and forms lactate of soda, which consumes still further the alkali reserves.

Acidosis is, therefore, not in itself serious, but a signal that air and oxygen are needed by the tissues.

Some muscles can go without air for three hours. Some tissues, such as the eyes and nerves, cannot go eight minutes without fresh oxygen, unless irretrievably damaged.

The Treatment

Treatment of shock plainly must be prompt and complete. Burned, torn or injured tissues must be tightly "roped off" from the rest of the anatomy. The tied portion and the tourniquet must not be removed before the surgeon operates above the damaged part.

Shock is accompanied by cold, because the heat-making tissues are checked and much perspiration causes additional loss.

Hot water bottles and other warmth must be applied. Hot drinks and hot blankets help much.

Although there has been no hemorrhage or loss of blood, transfusion of blood or gum salt solution restores blood pressures and heat.

Answers to Health Questions.

A. B. J. G. Q—How can I reduce my weight?

A—You must not get more than eight hours' sleep out of the 24. You must keep the intestines open and active, and get daily outdoor exercise. You should reduce the amount of sugars, starches and oils which are taken into the body. Food laxatives such as uncooked bran and green vegetables help in the reducing process. Drink lots of water only between meals. Do not eat any bread except gluten, and it is better to have this toasted.

M. K. N. Q—What can I do for wrinkles?

A—Here is a cold cream which possesses an astringent quality with which you may massage your face each night before retiring.

Almond milk 1½ ounces
Rosewater 6 ounces
Alum 60 grains

Short Stories of the Buckeye State

A YEAR OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS

There were three Democratic state conventions held in Columbus in the stormy year of 1880. The first was held in Armory Hall on January 5 to select delegates at large to the national convention. William B. Woods, of Licking county was permanent chairman, and Edward Kinsman, of Cleveland, secretary. The Douglass men proved to have control of the convention and selected as the four delegates to Charleston, D. P. Rhodes of Cleveland, a cousin of Stephen A. Douglass, Senator George E. Pugh, George W. McCook and Hugh J. Jewett. By a vote of 242 1-2 to 94 1-2 the convention instructed these delegates to support Mr. Douglass for the presidential nomination.

They certainly did, and their firm stand went far toward convincing the southern element of the party there that the northern Democracy could no longer be relied upon to follow the lead of the southern element. The convention met at Charleston, S. C., on April 23, and on the fifth day of the meeting the squatter sovereignty resolution was put through, and the southern delegates withdrew. The two-thirds rule being in force this left the Douglass section of the convention, though in the majority, without sufficient votes to make a nomination, and so they adjourned on May 3 to meet at Baltimore on June 18. The split led to the nomination of Douglass by the northern faction and Breckinridge by the southern.

The Douglass Democrats of Ohio held their state convention in the Odeon building here on July 4 and placed a full state ticket in nomination. The Breckinridge Democrats held their state convention also in Columbus, but not until August 7. They nominated a state electoral ticket, but after some consideration decided not to place a state ticket in the field. The split in the party ran wholly along the line of national politics.

Thus the overthrow of the Democratic party in Ohio on the eve of the outbreak of the war, was in many respects like that of the Republican party in 1912.

Australia has vast deposits of a form of brown coal that burns well when mixed with wood or black coal, some of the beds being more than 700 feet thick.

OUR BED-TIME STORY FOR THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT FOLKS

"I really think it's time you little folks started to school," said Ladydear to Jack and Jane one morning. And Jack and Jane, thinking that perhaps Ladydear meant that they would have to start for home in the airplane soon felt very blue, and looked it, too. Ladydear saw their sad faces and laughed.

"I didn't mean that we would have to start back to Make Believe town," she said. "But you wouldn't want to find, when you do get home, that other little folks as old as you know described things they had seen or done on their trip so far. And Ladydear used distances between famous cities, the height of the mountains around them and other interesting figures for the arithmetic work.

Booh "went to school," too. During the first lesson he sat up at the side of Jack's chair and blinked his eyes and wiggled his ears as if he knew what was being said and was learning everything Jack and Jane learned. But after the first lesson the school hour, were rather dull for him, I guess. He'd sit up a while and be all attention. But pretty soon he'd yawn a couple of times and then stretch himself out at full length near Ladydear or one of the children. And there he'd lie until the lesson time ended.

"Maybe he has decided he knows enough for such a little dog," said Jack when he told Captain Brave about Booh. The children had a great time every day telling Captain Brave what they had learned in the morning and no matter what Captain Brave might be doing, he listened while they recited their lessons over again to him.

All in all, it was a wonderful way of going to school, Jack and Jane thought.

JAPANESE PARTY.

Members of the Cilonian Club enjoyed a most interesting evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Bradley, of West Spring Street, when she entertained with a delightful Japanese party Monday evening. The spacious vestibule and hall were converted into bowers of loveliness, and upon entering one was greeted by two Japanese maidens, attired in beautiful robes, who served tea and cakes ere the guests were relieved of their wraps. Such is the custom in the olden country. Miss Katherine Gramm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Gramm, and Miss Elleen Tolby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Tolby, presided at the tea service.

There was a program arranged for the entertainment of the guests. Miss Christine Baker sang and Mrs. E. A. Youkum read a paper on "Japan." The members of the club received in typical Japanese costume. Guests enjoying the evening were Mrs. Green, Mrs. Nell Simpson, Mrs. Korshaw, Mrs. Beecher Moke, Mrs. Arthur Morris, and Miss Mattingler.

L—AN OCEAN LINER SINKS

"Wouldn't you want to wring that little wretch's neck?" whispered Alice as we went out to the garden after luncheon. The Callows had retired upstairs.

"It's very ill-bred to criticize one's guests, I know, but Dorothy Calloway does make me furious sometimes. She's so tactless about discussing her personal affairs. There's a whole multitude and never seems to realize that she's embarrassing us almost as much as her husband."

"Major Calloway is a very remarkable man," put in Mrs. Lloyd. "I'm sure his wife's attitude must distress him at times but he is extraordinarily courteous and only assumes an air of authority when it is absolutely necessary for the comfort of others, as you saw today."

"A nagging wife is an abomination," declared Alice. "I mean to be a model in the other extreme. You see to many poor female creatures going around with a sinking look simply because they're trying to escape being battered by fretful wives. I believe that the average man would never dream of deceiving his wife about his affairs if she would refrain from taking him to task about every absence and every act. It's impossible to please some women and the only way to escape a scene is to keep them in ignorance—and then they torment you with suspicion."

"If you're just yourself, Alice, you'll be a perfect wife," I declared warmly. "No need to adopt a set of rules."

"But I think every woman should," Alice insisted. "It's amazing how easily you can slip away from your ideals. The change is imperceptible, unless you catch yourself up short occasionally, give yourself a spiritual measurement and compare the result with the standard you have set for yourself. Take you for instance, Nell—horrorified if you saw your own qualifications posted up alongside the specifications for ideal wifehood?"

"Help!" I cried catching up a magazine to hold before me as a shield. "The earnest lady reformer has the floor! Being in love, certainly does strange things to you."

Alice ignored my interruption. The light of inspiration was in her eyes. "What are you but a pretty ornament to set in the most conspicuous place when guests come. You have no place in commonplace affairs when a woman must be a helpmeet and cease to be a doll. That's not all Paul wants."

"But that's all Paul will get," I declared. "And let me tell you, Sweet Alice, that you'll not be so scornful of dolls after you've been thoroughly married for a few months. Come and talk to me then and I'll consider you more seriously."

"Never mind! I'm going to be different," promised Alice. "That's what they all say," scoffed, "but I'll wager you a new mesh bag that before the year is out you'll be saying to Martin, 'Well this is a nice time for you to be showing up—and dinner waiting an hour! Where on earth have you been—playing poker with those awful shavetails at the club, I've not a doubt!'"

Alice laughed and leaned over to pat my hand.

"You're a good sort, Nell, even if I don't approve of you one bit."

"No one else does either," I answered airily, "but thank Heaven for that! It gives the poor dears something to talk about and that's a bit to be thankful for in this weary world where everything has happened thousands and thousands of times before and there's not a new thrill in the universe. Now I must run along. I'm going down town to buy you a wedding gift that will fill you with remorse for having lectured me."

Alice slipped her arms around me and hugged me close.

"Don't be cross with me! I dare say I'm foolish, but I want everybody to be as happy as I. And if you're going to give us a present," she added practically, "Remember that I'm having a box of an apartment and only one maid, so don't select any Cluny dinner cloths or gold services."

"I'll probably send you a set of superior saucepans, you incorrigible Pollyanna," I returned as I bid her good bye.

As I went down the front steps, a newsboy ran by crying an extra paper. I purchased one and scanned the great black headlines that blazoned to the world the sinking of the Corinthia.

Captain Chiswood had sailed on the Corinthia.

A Chance to Live

(By Zoe Beekley)

CLIMBING UP

Poor, frantic, stunted women! Shabbier than Bernie and her self, more miserable even. They had been repulsed with shoves and clabbings from the police and laughter from the crowd. They got nothing. Never would get anything. And, neither would Bernie and millions of other young men like him by "smashing things."

Slowly Annie began to see something. Gradually she was finding a "handle" to take hold of. A fantastic smile popped into her mind. Without knowing why, the recollection of an "amusement" at Coney Island called "the funny stairs" came to her. She had seen these "funny stairs" long ago when she went with the factory girls and their "gentlemen friends." How they had screamed over their efforts to climb those juggling stairs!

By sheer strength they tried to buck the motion. But it was too strong. They fell down, bruising their elbows and knees. And the crowd laughed. They got up and tried again to force their way to the top. The jumping staircase only mocked them.

But finally they got the trick. It was perfectly simple after all. You just stepped on, took hold of the rail and went with the stairs, adapting your movement to theirs. These "funny stairs" seemed to represent exactly the social and industrial system of today.

"Bern," she began, breaking the little silence, "that is not the answer—'smashing things.' It ought to be. People ought not to be treated as they are. I grant you that. And making a fuss ought to mend matters. I also grant you that. But things are not as they ought to be, they're as they are. And the way to beat them is to go with them. You get somewhere. Then, when you have got somewhere, you can do something to help change things."

Bernie turned and looked at his small wife. From the height of his spiritual awakening he gazed down at the woman who did not understand. He had found his Cause, adopted his platform, been made alive to the course to pursue. He felt just a little pity for Annie, who had not.

And how, he asked, patiently, "will I get somewhere? How will I help change things—me, a shipping clerk at twelve a week?"

"First of all," answered Annie slowly, she was still thinking it out, still groping in half-light of understanding, "you must not go on being a shipping clerk at twelve a week. Now wait a second, Bern, I'm not finding fault. I'm suggesting."

"I'm to be president of my tobacco company, I suppose," interjected Bernard. Annie ignored the sarcasm.

"Maybe—some time. It wouldn't be so impossible. But there'd be a lot to do first. You could go to wherever is in charge—"

"Arkright—" put in Bernie, "he's the fellow that hires and fires."

"Very well, Arkright," went on Annie with serene practicality. "Go to Mr. Arkright and ask him what to do to get a better job. You had a better job at Simms's. You've got intelligence and experience and—everything. Find out if there isn't something better in your place that you can do—if there isn't some chance to advance."

Bernie remembered Arkright had said when he employed him "You can work up." This idea of Annie's "wasn't so rotten" after all. It mightn't come to anything, but there'd be no harm trying it.

The next day Annie met Rafetsky in the hallway.

"They've raised milk on us again," was the greeting of the tailor's wife. "Six cents a pint already—loose milk! God knows now what we do!"

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash Poisons and Toxins From System Before Putting Food Into Stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating more food.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside lathing.

Condensed Classic Series

The Lima Times' Fascinating Fiction Feature

TODAY—"THE COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO,"
By Alexander Dumas, Sr.
THURSDAY—"HENRY ESOMOND," by W. M. Thackeray.

DUMAS

Alexandre Dumas was of mixed blood, the grandson of a French marquis and a native of the West Indies. His own father was a Private in the French army when the Revolution broke out. He was swiftly promoted until he held the rank of general-in-chief in Spain but he quarreled with Napoleon and when he died, he left but 30 acres of land to his widow and two children.

Alexandre was born on July 24, 1802, in a town not far from Soissons. As a boy he had few advantages, for his mother was poor. He was, however, carefully instructed by a kindly priest. He then studied law but his desire to write drove him to Paris where he began his career by penning vaudeville sketches and melodramas.

He wrote plays for several years and his "Henri III." scored the first great success of the romantic drama. Short stories appeared at intervals and then his novels. "The Three Musketeers" came out in 1844 and thereafter romance after romance came in such rapid succession that his works in French fill 227 volumes. He told Napoleon III. that he had written 1200 books.

Prodigiously as he worked, he

wasted just as prodigiously. He entertained a whole army of parasites and in his last years was constantly harassed by creditors. He had married, in 1840 Ida Ferrier, an actress, but they did not live together. His daughter came to his aid in 1868 when he was bedridden and ill and two years later, on December 5, 1870, he died in the home of his son, the author of the popular "Camille."

THE COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO

By ALEXANDER DUMAS, SR.
(Condensation by Alfred S. Clark)

On February 28, 1815, Edmond Dantes sailed into Marseilles. He was but 19 years of age and ardently in love. His conscience was clear; he had violated no law. Yet the next night he was in a cell in the gloomy Chateau d'If, a fortress on a bare rock off Marseilles. And fourteen years were to pass before he strode again in the sunlight.

These men had wrought his ruin. Danglars envied Edmond's rapid promotion. Fernand was crazed with love for Mercedes. Edmond's beloved Danglars wrote and Fernand despatched a letter warning the authorities to intercept the miscreant Edmond was bearing to Paris. Chance decreed that this warning, addressed to Villefort's father, fell into the hands of the unscrupulous Villefort himself.

Of this dark intrigue Edmond knew nothing. At his captain's dying request he had called at Elba where he had seen the captive Napoleon and been entrusted with a sealed letter. Villefort, a turncoat tory and language.

Less guileless than Edmond, he was able to prove, from the youth's own story that Danglars, Fernand and Villefort were responsible for his living death. So Edmond had a new incentive for freedom. He sought revenge. The Abbe revealed too the secret of the great treasure of gold and jewels that lay in a cave on Monte Cristo, an uninhabited island off Italy.

The years rolled on. Another attempt to escape was frustrated by the paralysis of the Abbe's right side. Edmond refused to leave him. He was a very different man from the care free sailor who had been so suddenly jerked from the gaiety of a marriage feast to the gloom of a dungeon. He was a man of the world—educated, cynical.

One night he heard a cry of anguish. Hurriedly he rolled aside the great stone that concealed the tunnel opening, crawled swiftly to his neighbor's cell. He found him writhing in agony. At dawn he was dead.

That night Edmond carried the corpse to his own cell and laid it on his own bed, face to the wall, so that the jailer would think it Edmond asleep. Secreting a crude knife with which to effect an escape, he then sewed himself in to the coarse sack in which the jailers had put the body. Two men later bore out the supposed corpse, weighted (the legs with a great iron ball, and swung the sack powerfully. Edmond suddenly realized that he was falling from a great height. He had been flung from the chateau roof into the sea.

He screamed aloud as he struck the water and then the weight dragged him into the ice-cold depths. He ripped open the sack, convulsively cut the rope that was knotted to the shot, and rose to the surface. He had not forgotten how to swim. He struck out in the blackness for an islet. Just as he was losing hope, his knee struck rock. He staggered to his feet and above him rose a gloomy mass, his goal.

At daybreak he flung himself into the sea and was pulled aboard an outward-bound bark. Each moment Marseilles receded further into the distance. He learned from his shipmates that it was February 28, 1824. He had been shut away from the world for 14 years. He wondered what had become of Mercedes. Then he thought of Danglars, Fernand and Villefort. A baleful light flickered in his hard eye.

Edmond had fallen in with a band of smugglers. On one of their voyages, he gazed eagerly at a granite mass rose-hued in the dawn. It was Monte Cristo. A few weeks later chance brought him to the island. None of his comrades suspected the leaping thoughts that thronged in Edmond's mind. They were simple folk, easily deceived. Edmond fell from a rock and complained that he was so hurt that he could not move. He was confident, he insisted, that he could cure himself if he were left here. At last they sailed away. When the boat was out of sight, he leaped to his feet, seized his pickaxe and cried "Open, Sesame!" He was alone on Monte Cristo.

Following the clues of the Abbe's ancient manuscript, he located the great slab of rock, overgrown with vegetation. He slashed at the edges with his pickaxe and made a hole. With his horn of powder, he easily blasted the rock away. Before him was an iron ring embedded in a limestone. He raised it and saw a flight of stairs. With hope mingled with a strange misgiving, he descended broke open a passage into an inner cave, and dug away the earth over an oak coffin bound with iron. He burst it open and there blazed gold coins, bars of gold, diamonds, rubies and pearls that glittered in glorious profusion.

When Edmond came back to France, it was as the Count of Monte Cristo—fabulously wealthy, romantic in appearance, a performer of miracles. His betrayers had risen to heights of fame and affluence. Danglars were a wealthy banker; Fernand an honored warrior; Villefort high in office. Mercedes, believing Edmond dead, had yielded to Fernand's importunate pleadings and had married him.

Zealously did the Count of Monte Cristo devote his days and nights to ruin these three. Usually it was in his own unrecognized personality that he dazzled Paris with his feasts, his extravaganzas, his prodigal outlays. Everyone paid court to this mysterious stranger who rained gold about him. Sometimes he disguised himself—now as the Abbe Busoni, now as the Italian Zazzone, now as the English Lord Wilmore, now as the English Lord Wilmore, now as the English Lord Wilmore.

He tortured Danglars, Fernand, Villefort, methodically and yet so skillfully that they did not know the hand that directed the blows that fell upon them. Piece by piece Danglars's fortune was lopped away. At last he was beggared, the bitter blow that could have befallen him. Fernand, enmeshed slowly in revelations of his guilty past, finally blew out his brains. Villefort, his crimes dragged into the light of day, went raving mad. Mercedes, made poor but happy in the love of her devoted son, lived on, penitent.

Yet were there those whom Monte Cristo rewarded. The noble Morrel, his former employer, was saved from bankruptcy by a mysterious Englishman who presented him with Mother! You must say "California!" notes he could not meet. And on the uninhabited island of Monte Cristo, Morrel's son, true and tried as his father, learned that Villefort's daughter, the girl who had remained fine through all vicissitudes, still lived. She stood beside him on the pinnacle of the island and they looked with blurred eyes into the distance, where each moment a ship grew fainter and fainter. It was bearing from their sight the man who had once been Edmond Dantes. With him was the radiant Haydee, the mysterious princess whose beauty had outshone all the beauties of Paris. In her loved Edmond had at last forgotten all that he did not now want to remember.

BRIDGE PARTY

Another pretty tribute was paid to the brides-elect of this month, Miss Mary Duffield and Miss Fannie Hughes, Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Ruth Parmenter was the charming hostess to a number of friends. Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon and was followed by tea at four o'clock. Garden flowers were used profusely throughout the rooms, where tables were laid for play. Following the games the honor guests were presented with a half dozen Madeira bottles.

Guests were: Miss Charlotte Baer, Miss Evelyn Davison, Miss Helen Bower, Miss Geraldine Duffield, Miss Geraldine Dunn, Miss Ruth Bower, Miss Lenna Rudy, Miss Leah Hay, Miss Gale Parmenter, and Mrs. R. WOMEN ARE CARELESS This has been proved over and over again during the war. They over-estimate their physical strength and overtax it. Their ambition is commendable, but does not compensate for the hours and days of misery which they suffer from symptoms caused by female ills brought on by overwork. Women who are weak, nervous, despondent, with headaches, backaches and dragging down pains should remember there is one tried and true remedy, that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for such ailments.

ENGLAND "ON THE BANK," SHE DONNED SAILOR'S TOGS TO GET TO THE "STATES."

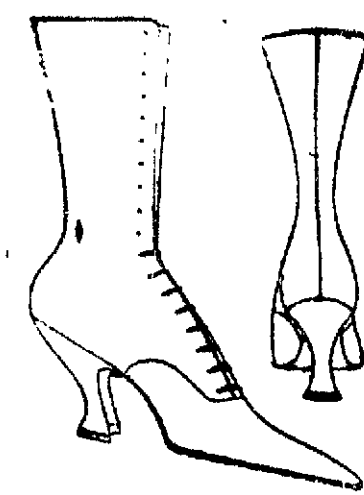

Miss Elsie Wilson.

"Things had gone on the blink in the old country and I had heard so much about the States that I wanted to try it," was the explanation made by Elsie Wilson, an English girl of 22, to a charge that she was in this country illegally. She told the New Jersey authorities that after four attempts to leave England had failed, she had her hair cut off, donned the rig of a sailor, was accepted at Southampton without question, and that she worked as a coal passer.

"ONE-MAN, SAFETY" CARS SANCTIONED BY THE COMMITTEE

Committee Journeyed to Fort Wayne and Investigated Cars.

MAY BRING ONE HERE

Body Believes New System Will Be a Success If Put in Use in This City.

Members of the committee, composed of local business men, who Tuesday visited Fort Wayne, Indiana, and investigated the "One-Man, Safety" cars, have, through W. C. Bradley, chairman, expressed their approval of the cars operated in the Indiana city, and it is very probable they will be recommended to council for operation in Lima.

The committee, composed of W. Bradley, R. B. Dunn, Simon Fischer, Alvin Tarkin, Dan W. Morris, Walter H. Clarke, John Boose, Frank Colucci, and James B. Dugan, resident manager of the Ohio Electric, journeyed to Fort Wayne at the invitation of the electric company in an effort to ascertain whether or not the cars in use in that city have proven satisfactory.

Members Are Pleased
Several members of the committee questioned today relative to their trip, and the success of the new cars, stated the cars were apparently satisfactory in every manner in Fort Wayne. Since the first of the present year, about 28 new cars have been put in service there, and it is the general impression that by the first of the coming year the system will be 100 per cent one-man cars, Dan H. Morris stated.

However, they all aver, it remains to be seen whether the cars can be operated in Lima with the same success. The matter is being weighed more carefully by members of the committee, but none could give any just reason as to why the cars would not be successful in this city.

It was, however, offered by one or two of the members, that perhaps some trouble would be experienced in the operation of the cars here owing to the fact that the local system is not double tracked. This was overcome by the argument that if the company agreed to give an 8 or 10 minute service, it would be up to the concern to eliminate any trouble which may result from the present tracks.

Want Cars Demonstrated
The car demonstrated to the committee yesterday seats thirty-two people. That is eight more than the cars being operated in this city at present. There are many other advantages. It is claimed. For instance the new cars are equipped with special springs which eliminates the rocking motion. Steps on the new cars are lower than the ones on the cars now in operation in Lima, thus making it easier for ladies to step them with their tight skirts.

It is the suggestion of a few members of the committee, to bring one or two of the new cars to Lima, and demonstrate it to the general public by operating it on local tracks for a period. In this manner the new cars could be given a thorough try-out under the local system, it is believed.

FARMERS CROWDING FALL FESTIVAL, TENT SITUATED ON SQUARE

Before 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, the opening time for the exhibit tent on the square being conducted by the Lima Merchants Association during their Fall Festival, many farmers had arrived with their produce. All during the day they arrived. The farmers brought some of the finest and best specimens of vegetables and grain in the county. Prizes aggregating a total of $100 will be given to the exhibitors having the best and second best exhibits, at the close of the festival Saturday afternoon.

Many farmers who have signified their intention of bringing in their exhibits may not be able to do so until Thursday, and probably Friday owing to being busy at this time. A splendid lot of exhibits of various species of pumpkins, squash, potatoes and corn arrived early this morning from farmers near Spencer-ville. One ear of corn measuring 16 inches, possibly the largest on display, and a huge radish weighing 11 1/2 pounds, and 22 inches in diameter, together with extra large pumpkins are already displayed. Clarence Fraunhofer, deputy sheriff, has a splendid large pumpkin which will be on exhibit.

Dale Creman, treasurer of the Allen county fair board, James Morton of the Merchants Association, and B. E. Blum, chairman of the Merchants Booster campaign will be in charge at the tent. Joseph Federman, manager of the Boston store is chairman of the festival plans.

Domestic Sues For Damages

Viola Alexander filed in common pleas court Wednesday, a petition for $2,069.00 damages against Martin Stolzenbach of 754 W. High street, for personal injuries received while working for the defendant as a domestic.

The plaintiff charges that on or about the 25th of June, while going about her necessary duties, and according to instructions she was forced to use steps leading into the cellar which were unsafe, and that because of the stairway being obstructed and dark, and with no artificial illumination she fell, spraining her back and causing other injuries to the extent named in the petition.

LIMA'S 1919 DEFICIT TO REACH $12,998

As compared with other cities Lima is well off in so far as a public deficit is concerned. City Auditor Rupert this afternoon stated, when he had completed the financial report which will be submitted to council at its next regular session so that deficit bonds may be issued. The total deficit of the city up to January 1, 1920 is $12,998.21, according to the figures. This appears in the safety department, and is said to have been caused by the shutting off of revenues realized from saloons. At the next meeting of council, it is very probable deficiency bonds to cover the above amount will be issued. After the first of the coming year, deficiency bonds may only be issued by a vote of the people.

whose term will expire the first of the year. Under the new Hughes law which went into effect August 10 last, civil service examinations for the position of health officer, as well as sanitary policemen will be held the middle of November.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the social clinic at Memorial Hall, and to devise ways and means of enlarging the work there. At the present time Dr. Klor Parent is in charge of the work, but it will soon be necessary owing to its steady growth to add several other physicians to the staff. The matter will be further discussed at a meeting to be held tomorrow night.

ROBBERS GET $100 IN DAYLIGHT RAID AT FRANCIS HOME

Burglars were again at work in the city, Tuesday. The house of Hugh Francis, South Main Street, tinner, was entered early in the afternoon, and between $80.00 and $100.00 was taken from the dressing table of the daughter, Miss Margaret Francis. Other things were scattered about but nothing else was missed. About $300.00 in Liberty Bonds were missed by the burglars in their hurry, they being frightened, by someone in the house.

GOOD SUES O.E. FOR DAMAGE TO TRUCK

Henry L. Good is the plaintiff in a damage suit for $725.00, against the Ohio Electric Company, filed in Common Pleas Court, Wednesday. The plaintiff claims in his petition that while crossing the tracks of the Ohio Electric Railway on the Cable road, three miles West of Lima, on a motor truck it was hit by a passing work car, causing damage of $600.00, and that the truck was out of commission long enough to cause a loss of $125.00. He also charges that the car approached without signal of any kind from whistle or bell, and that he was unable to see its approach due to smoke from another train.

Sgt. Long Assumes Charge of Station

After a stay of only about 20 minutes in Lima, Howard D. McDonnell, Baltimore, Md., was accosted by the local recruiting officer here, and enlisted in the medical corps at the recruiting station, Metropolitan block. That was not because he was disappointed in our fair city, but he could not turn down the splendid advantages that were set forth to him by the recruiting officers.

Three other young men also enlisted this week. They were Fred Zurober, Lima; Riley E. Smith, giving his address as Illinois; and Herbert Romy, Lima. Sergeant Robert H. Long of Toledo arrived in Lima this morning to take complete charge of the local recruiting station. He will have two permanent assistants.

THE WAY TO GET THE Best Service From Your Watch

Many men think that when they buy a fine watch they can keep it about it for years.

But this is no more true of a watch than of a fine automobile. Both need occasional adjustment and cleaning to keep them in top notch condition.

One of the reasons why our watch customers get such complete satisfaction from their watches is because we maintain a service department under supervision of an expert watchmaker, and place at our business to see to it that our watches are given proper attention at a reasonable cost after they are in the pockets of our owners.

We urge you to consider this important factor in the purchase of your next watch and invite you to visit our store so that we may show how we guarantee perfect watch service to our customers.

FAUROT—LILA LEE

Elliott Dexter, one of the best leading men under contract with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, plays the leading role opposite Lila Lee in her new production, "A Daughter of the Wolf," which is on now at the Faurot. Mr. Dexter's work in this picture is delightful.

The principal feature is accompanied by the Pathe News and Mack Sennett's new and very funny comedy "Treating 'Em Rough," one of the best he has ever produced. Last times tonight.

FAUROT—"SEVEN DAYS' LEAVE"

When war plays are mentioned, one unconsciously thinks of such big successes of the stage as "Shenandoah," "Northern Lights," "Second Service," to say nothing of "Barbara Frietchie," all products of the Civil War. These plays, all written since the great conflict which almost surrendered the Union to the South, naturally give rise to the supposition that good war plays are not written until after the fighting has ceased. One of the glowing exceptions to this rule is "Seven Days' Leave," Walter Howard's great melodrama which comes to the Faurot on Thursday afternoon and night.

This play that ran at the Lyceum Theatre, London, in which playhouse it was offered for two years, also played six months at the Park Theatre, New York City and is recorded by many discriminating critics as one of the pleasant surprises. A cast of all well known players has been assembled to interpret the piece, each one of whom was selected for special qualifications for the part assigned. Seats are now selling for both matinee and night performance.

SCREEN BEAUTY DESIGNS

A FASHIONABLE HAND-BAG

Claire Whitney, who has the leading ingenue part in the Screen Classics, Inc., all-star production, "The Man Who Stayed at Home," is the designer of a chiffon velvet handbag, which has been pronounced so clever an addition to the feminine costume that a great firm has bought the rights to it and will introduce it as the season's fashion novelty.

The bag will be made up in standard shades to go with milady's costume whatever it may be. It will be called the Claire Whitney bag, and will be placed on general sale. The house of Isidor Warschauer, which has acquired the rights to the reproducing of the design, will place an autographed photograph of Miss Whitney in every handbag. In price it will be within the means of the average pocketbook.

The handbag, carried by Miss Whitney herself, has been developed in brown chiffon velvet. A few advance copies have been made up for her intimate friends of the stage and screen, and will shortly appear on Fifth Avenue and elsewhere. Screen Classics, Inc., women stars will be among the first to carry the Claire Whitney bag.

interested in artistic design, ever since she attended the Wadleigh High School in New York and later Bryn Mawr College, and it was as an outlet to the artistic side of her nature that she adopted the theatrical profession. Miss Whitney is an accomplished athlete, having an especial fondness for swimming and high diving.

The part of Molly Preston, in "The Man Who Stayed at Home," will give this favorite player splendid opportunities. Director Herbert Blache chose her for the role from scores under consideration, believing her to combine the talent and beauty required for this unusual part. "The Man Who Stayed at Home" will be shown at the Rialto Theatre tomorrow.

AT THE LYRIC.

Rex Beach's newest novel to be picturized is "The Crimson Gardenia," at the Lyric today. It is described as a romance of the Mardi Gras and the entire action transpires in New Orleans, known to be the only city in America retaining flavor of the old world. In the novel many quaint customs and landmarks are described with peculiar charm by the author and in supervising the production of it as a photoplay he endeavors to depict it all on the screen.

Old courtyards, mellow with tradition, and open air cafes, tiny overhanging balconies, secret stairways and the dozen and one earmarks of the French quarter in the old city are beautifully pictured in the production.

Most important of all, however, because half the thrilling scenes are laid there, is the ancient mansion, dusty and dilapidated, where Alfred Le Duc (Tully Marshall) and his band of counterfeiters make their headquarters.

PETROLEUM BODY HITS MEXICO ACTS

Charges Confiscation Violates Both National and International Laws.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—In formal representations filed with the state department, the Association of Producers of Petroleum takes issue with recent declarations made in Mexico City by Leon Salinas, acting head of the Mexican department of industry and commerce and chief of the oil bureau of that department, justifying the Carranza government's attitude on the confiscation question.

Beside refuting statements by Salinas, the petroleum producers again charge the acts of the Carranza government against which they complain are in violation of the laws of Mexico itself and in contravention of the accepted law of nations.

"It is admitted," the statement says, "that the question of proprietorship of coal lands in Mexico and the Spanish colonies was subject of contention; but nowhere in the Spanish grants or subsequent ordinances of the Spanish crown was petroleum treated as the king's patrimony or the property of the nation. If any contention did exist it was set at rest in Mexico by the mining law of 1884.

Before that date neither coal nor petroleum had been developed in Mexico at all; the law of 1884 simply cleared up a matter in question. From that time therefore rights to coal and oil were acquired by Americans under this law and the laws to the same effect, of 1892 and 1910.

"By the expenditure of vast amounts of money, American individuals and companies have given a value to these lands relying upon the laws of Mexico. Their tenure was never questioned; in fact it was repeatedly ratified by acts of Mexican courts and the Mexican government has since 1912 continuously recognized rights so acquired under Mexican law by collecting taxes upon the lands and upon the product.

"The Mexican government's contention that a mere change in constitutional precept (appearing in a constitution which itself prohibits any retroactive legislation, which precept against retroactive effect was called to the attention of the ambassador of the United States, with an assurance that no law or constitutional provision would take effect retroactively in advance of the presentation of his credentials in February 1917) may operate to divest foreigners of rights legally acquired, has been well answered by protests of your department.

"In harmony with such protests, the members of this association have taken a united stand and refused to be trapped by any of the exigencies of Mexican government decrees demanding the performance of acts, the effect of which would be to acquiesce in the confiscation and render the American protests nugatory.

BRITISH RESUME COAL PRODUCTION

Work Tied Up by Car Shortage During Rail Strike Started Again.

LONDON—Work in Great Britain coal fields, which had been stopped owing to the lack of freight cars as the result of the great rail way strike, has been resumed. The Irish mail service also has been started again.

J. H. Thomas, secretary of the National Union of Railway Men, said today that in some rare instances strikers had refused to return to work with men who had volunteered to continue work during the strike, but he hoped that this difficulty, in carrying out the terms of the settlement, would be overcome.

On the other hand, one company had declined to permit the strikers to return, thus creating a serious situation, but the company yielded after intervention by Mr. Bonar Law and Sir Eric Geddes, with whom Mr. Thomas had a long conference.

Practically all of the railway systems were in operation today as the result of the compromise yesterday. Virtually every man engaged in railway work in London returned to his duty this morning. The various rail services did not speedily reach the normal state, however, because of the displacement of the railway's material that had resulted from the suspension of work. In the country districts the resumption was general, except in the outlying districts, where telegrams announcing the settlement and ordering the men back to work could not be delivered last night.

The railway companies promised today that virtually regular service would be in operation on their lines tomorrow.

Leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen, who directed the strike declare their satisfaction with the arrangement. In messages to the Herald, organ of union labor.

"The men stood four square, determined to secure victory or go down together," declares J. H. Thomas, secretary of the union and leader of the strike. "The settlement brings home great gains."

He appeals to railway men to consolidate their organization and make their forces stronger than ever, so as to "gain for all members a higher standard of life."

C. T. Cramp president of the union says:

"While we did not obtain the formula we set forth in the strike resolution, we obtained terms equally good, which will give the railwaymen the same thing in effect. Our men have broken the back of the first attack made upon the entire working class and no doubt this splendid stand will save workers from a degraded standard of life."

Memorial Association Chairman Plans Gifts as Part of Ohio Campaign

Newark, O.—A. H. Heisey, glass manufacturer, who is chairman of the Ohio Roosevelt Memorial Association in the seventeenth congressional district, which includes Licking, Knox, Richland and Ashland counties, hopes to be able to present every school room in those counties with a framed, enlarged photograph of Theodore Roosevelt by October 20, when the effort to raise $500,000 for the national fund will be under full swing in Ohio.

Mr. Heisey is now negotiating with manufacturers in an effort to ascertain whether a sufficient quantity of such pictures can be produced in the short time that is left between now and the campaign opening. Over 1,000 will be needed.

"I am in great hopes that the photographs can be printed, mounted and framed in time," Mr. Heisey says. "Unfortunately, my gift is not original with me—so many other chairmen over the country are planning to do the same thing that the manufacturers are flooded with orders."

Drying Seed Corn

INSURES GOOD STAND

Tests in caring for seed corn at the Ohio Experiment Station show that corn giving the best germination tests in the spring is that which has been dried out well in the fall and to which some artificial heat has been applied. It is necessary to keep the corn well-ventilated, which may be accomplished by suspending the ears from a wire in a shed or attic; or the ears may be placed in a sling between two strings so that they do not touch each other. If the corn is thoroughly dried before freezing weather the germination test generally proves satisfactory in the spring.

ST. MARYS

LIMA COUPLE CAUSE
SCENE AT ST. MARYS

ST. MARYS, Oct. 8.—A sensational scene was staged Monday in the central part of St. Marys business section, when a man from Lima giving his name as "Smith" became enraged upon finding his alleged wife in company with a man said to be Louis Decker, of the Decker Meat Packing house, of Piqua. Smith and his wife visited the office of a local physician where he received treatment for a burst blood vessel in the soft palate. It was not learned definitely just how Mr. Smith happened to burst the blood vessel in his head, but it is presumed that it occurred while he was bending over working on the automobile.

Smith claims to be an employee of the Garford Motor Works at Lima. No court procedure was connected with the incident in St. Marys, but matters were smoothed over in some other manner, maybe satisfactory to the participants in the affair. Varied rumors were afloat concerning the incident.

The latest planting of fish in Lake St. Marys comprises 74,700 marble catfish and 6,500 bass and bluegills. The fish were placed in the water at the public landing on the west bank.

The specimens averaged five inches in length. They are reported in first rate condition. Warden Frank Milinski had charge of the fish.

It is a current rumor on the streets today that the Western Ohio Railway Company, though its representative will appear before the city council tonight in quest of a renewal of its franchise with the city which gives it the privilege of selling electric power to the manufacturers. The present franchise does not expire by limitation until next March, but the Western Ohio is apparently taking time by the forelock.

The new municipal light plant, which is capable of carrying a heavy day load of power current, has not as yet been given a chance to demonstrate its capacity.—Leader.

VAN WERT

WOMAN SHOT IN A STRANGE MANNER

VAN WERT, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Clyde J. Kneller of southwest of Ohio City is in the Van Wert county hospital at the point of death from a wound inflicted by a gun some time Sunday. She was brought to Van Wert in the Lee ambulance from Ohio City and is being attended by Dr. Wiggers of Ohio City.

Circumstances surrounding the case are ultra-mysterious, and an effort is apparently being made to cover up all incidents pertaining to the affair. At the Van Wert hospital it was stated that nothing was known about the matter except that Mrs. Kneller was brought there Sunday, operated upon and was resting easily today. The wound is on her left side under the arm. It was stated at the hospital. Even neighbors, who reside near the Kneller place, refuse to comment on the affair and at Ohio City an effort to find out the facts in the case proved futile.

Both Russell Good and Anna Webster-good, the woman from Cleveland who caused a sensation Monday by her appearance here and claims that she had been married to Good, have not been heard of since they left the city shortly after noon Monday.

Officers have been hunting for both of the parties and discovered that the woman went from Van Wert to Delphos on the Ohio Electric and from there to Lima where trace of them was lost. Good is believed to have returned to Cleveland. Cleveland officers have been notified and Good will probably be arrested there on a non-support charge held by his wife and her parents as part of the proceedings against him started when divorce action was filed.

County Supt. H. G. Keinath will speak at the Central Ohio Teachers' Round Table, Dayton, Nov. 7. Oct. 18th, the superintendents of the county will meet here, to arrange for attendance of teachers at the Northwestern Ohio Teachers' Association, Toledo, Oct. 24. Also to arrange for conducting election for members of the retiring board, in accordance with the new law with regard to teachers' pensions.

WAPAKONETA

SECOND DRUNK IN
AUGLAIZE CO. JAIL

WAPAKONETA, Oct. 8.—John DeRush, 51, of St. Marys was brought to the county jail Monday from St. Marys after he had been sentenced to serve two months for being unlawfully intoxicated, by Mayor Harvey Smith of St. Marys.

DeRush was arrested on the streets last Saturday night in a drunken condition. It is said that he was intoxicated the greater part of last week, but it was not discovered what the brand of wet goods was, nor where he got it. This was his fourth offense, and the Mayor at first sentenced him to one year in the county jail, but suspended ten months of the sentence.

This has been the second arrest on a drunk and disorderly charge in Auglaize since the prohibition law went into effect last June.

Centralization of the rural schools in the Buckland School District was the main topic discussed at a meeting of the Buckland School District Board of Education. The meeting was held in the Buckland High School building and attended by the entire Board: S. V. Schott, president, Harve Reed, Clerk, J. W. Whetstone, J. W. Bowersock and J. H. Harshbarger. District Superintendent J. C. Copeland and County Superintendent Drummond were also present.

The centralization plan as discussed is to build a plant sufficiently large to take care of all the schools in the Buckland District, and it is most likely that if such a plant is built it will be located near Buckland. There are five schools in this District, including the Buckland village school, in which there are five teachers, with an enrollment of two hundred and thirty-five pupils.

County Recorder Koehl reported Monday that up to date there have been 635 soldier and sailor discharges recorded at his office. It seems from these figures that Auglaize county men are rapidly returning. It is not compulsory for returned soldiers and sailors to file their discharges, but for the most part they have done so. The number of men drafted, enlistments in the army and navy etc. numbered close to one thousand.

STATE BOARD GIVEN
CHARGE OF SEED TESTING

Under the new seed law the examination of seeds for commercial purposes has been placed in charge of the Secretary of Agriculture, Columbus, the arrangements for this work being completed September 1. Formerly the testing of seeds from elevators, ware-houses, mills and grain companies was done unofficially by the Department of Botany at the Ohio Experiment Station. Seed identifications and other examinations of Botany at the Ohio Experiment Station for the users of farm seeds, but not for commercial seed companies.

British experiments in increasing crops with electricity have been found to have a beneficial effect on the soil, increasing its productivity for a year or more.

Savings Accounts Increase

During the war, citizens of Allen County invested millions of dollars in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps. They would have bought more if necessary.

Some people thought all the money in the country was going out of circulation—but it didn't.

Savings accounts were perhaps retarded for the time being, but are now larger than ever.

The Allen County Savings and Loan company has made more loans for the building of new homes than ever in its history.

This adds more to the tax duplicate, gives employment to labor and builds up the city.

It helps you.

More Light on Negro Plotting
In Arkansas

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
ELAINE, Ark., Oct. 8.—Discovery of what is believed to have been a widespread plot on the part of organized negroes for a general killing of whites in this locality and possibly in other parts of the south, led officials today to tighten up on emergency measures and redouble their efforts to apprehend leaders of the alleged organization who are still uncaught.

The existence of the alleged conspiracy was brought to light by the committee of seven appointed by civil and military authorities following the race disorders here last week through the questioning of negro prisoners.

According to committee members the negro captives readily revealed to them the inner workings of the plan. Today, October 6, the negroes declared was the date set for the uprising. Women are said to have been members of the organization which the authorities say was known as the "Progressive Farmers' and Household Union of America."

Twenty-one white planters in this district, according to the alleged confessions, had been marked to be killed first. The killing of the 21, it was asserted was to be followed immediately by a general massacre of whites, after which the negroes were to take over the land and till it. It was said efforts were being made to connect white men with the propaganda to incite the negroes to kill white residents.

Notes For The Farmer

GRAPE JUICE CIRCULAR
READY FOR HOUSEWIVES

"The Making of Grape Juice" and "Varieties of Grapes for Juice" are the subjects of pamphlets ready for distribution to housewives of Ohio from the Ohio Experiment Station, Wooster.

The pamphlets give in detail the steps in successful grape juice manufacture and also the relative value of different varieties of grapes for the making of beverages, as determined by tests at the Station.

These tests show that there is an opportunity for the production of attractive colors and flavors in juice by blending the liquid pressed from different varieties of grapes. Grapes that produce a poor juice alone may be used in connection with grapes that have a higher commercial value it is shown.

VICTORY OATS AN ORDINARY VARIETY.

Many requests are being received at the Ohio Experiment Station regarding the "Victory" or "New Victory" variety of oats. The Station has tested a variety of oats under the name of Victory which has practically the same origin as the variety now being sold by traveling seedsmen. Regarding the new variety, C. G. Williams, agronomist at the Ohio Experiment Station says:

"Victory oats is a good variety. In a seven-year test at the Ohio Station it has averaged nearly as high in yield as the Silvermine, a well-known and quite generally distributed variety of oats. However, there is no reason why farmers should pay more for the 'New Victory' oats than they would for such standard varieties as the Silvermine or Big Four. It will not weigh more per bushel when grown under Ohio conditions than the latter. Oats grown in the north and northwest uniformly test higher per bushel than Ohio-grown oats, but such high testing seed will not produce any higher testing oats here than Ohio-grown seed."

THE THREE PURPOSES OF THE

To join American children in service for needy children at home and overseas.

To give American children a chance to learn the satisfaction of unselfish service.

To bring about understanding among children of all countries.

TOO SHARP TO BE CAUGHT

"Harry, if I were to die, would you marry again?"

"That question is hardly fair, my dear."

"Why not?"

"Well, and if I were to say yes, you wouldn't like it, and to say never again wouldn't sound nice."

JUNIORS PLAN TO BE
BROTHERS AND SISTERS
TO WORLD CHILDREN

LITTLE brothers and sisters to all the children of the world—that's what the school boys and girls of America are going to be called from now on. The Junior Membership department of the Red Cross has a plan which will gather them all into this relationship. Even the smaller kiddies will be included.

In central Europe 300,000 children are starving—75,000 are hungry and homeless in Petrograd alone. Sixty per cent of the membership fees are to be sent to National Headquarters for a National Children's Fund to relieve suffering throughout the world.

In America, in smaller numbers, there are children in need of help. These unfortunate are not to be forgotten while the orphans of France and Belgium are receiving aid. The remaining forty per cent of the Junior fees, as well as any additional money raised by the school children, is to be expended for community activities.

Under this head there are many classes. Crippled children are to be found in almost any town, and the Juniors will help them to buy crutches or artificial hands and legs. Little folks in need of hospital or medical care will have American Red Cross Juniors ready to foot the bills if the fathers aren't able to pay the expenses.

Junior auxiliaries will try to furnish diversion for the children who live in orphanages and for the shut-ins. The ideal of the organization is to establish international understanding and good will among all children; to provide motives for purposeful school activities, and to carry out ideals and habits of service.

NEW EDUCATIONAL
IDEAS ANNOUNCED

WITH the opening of the school term this fall the Junior Red Cross will be concerned with two new phases of education.

The first is the internationalization of general education. The other is the providing of scholarships for children of disabled soldiers, sailors and marines who wish to attend schools of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

The closer inter-relationship of nations, resulting from the war, is making necessary, among children everywhere an understanding of the social, industrial and commercial situations as they exist now and as they will be apt to develop.

The teacher who keeps in touch with Junior Red Cross activities will have, this fall, a monthly bulletin that will contain true stories of conditions and incidents over the world and will make her geography and history lessons as live and interesting as a motion picture. These bulletin stories and articles are specially prepared to give a basic understanding of the world as it is in the process of change today.

In order that fatherless boys and girls may have an education that will fit them for taking care of the family dependent upon them, the Juniors will try to provide a scholarship for the use of the orphans of men who have died in service.

An innovation in school courses this year is First Aid, which will be taught by physical directors and other teachers who have taken the course and have qualified as an instructor.

BE A MEMBER OF THE

ANY American school, whether it be public, private or parochial, may have a Junior Red Cross auxiliary.

Membership in the Junior Red Cross may be obtained by applying to the nearest Red Cross chapter. As soon as the school enrolls as an auxiliary, every boy and girl in that school becomes a member of the Junior Red Cross.

Membership fees depend upon the size of the school. The yearly fee for each school is one-fourth as many dollars as there are pupils in the school. The Junior membership auxiliary fee is a school fund, not a sum to be collected from individual pupils. Some auxiliaries raise their money by sales or school entertainments. Others have "sacrifice boxes" where candy money is contributed to the Red Cross fund.

The chapter school committee receives the money from the school. Sixty per cent is forwarded to National Headquarters for the National Children's Fund, and forty per cent retained for neighborhood relief work.

SUCCESS AFTER FORTY

No doubt many a man whose business or professional career has not been a success, arises on the morning of his fortieth birthday in a despondent mood. He is apt to look upon himself as a "has been" and believe that the future has nothing bright in store. It might be well for such a man to cut out, and peruse for occasional reference the following:

At 40 Pliny S. Grant, later President of the United States, was plowing about the streets of Galena, Ill., with no occupation, and was generally regarded by the prosperous citizens of that town as a worthless sort of person.

At 40 Julius Caesar was a mere politician, completely overshadowed by the fame of Pompey. It was not until he was 42 that he became a General and began one of the most illustrious military careers in history.

At 47 Handel had produced no great musical work, and it was not until he was 56 that he wrote the immortal oratorio "Messiah."

At 40 Oliver Cromwell was seriously contemplating emigration to America as a farmer.

At 40 both Dryden and Scott first became known as authors.

(BY ARNOLD H. PRINE)

The great campaign is now the theme of conversation in hundreds of homes throughout this section of Ohio and the enthusiasm resembles an epidemic sweeping everything before it. That it has such a success is due to the fact that the contestants and their friends who are vitally interested in it have done so well up to date, and have preached their cause to their many friends. Votes are coming in daily and not only the contestants are interested, but each one has friends who are clipping the coupon vote from the Times and sending it in for their favorite.

Contestants are not held to their district when gathering subscriptions, but are privileged to solicit them anywhere, in any district. Get them wherever you can, for subscriptions mean votes and votes mean prizes.

Contestants are entitled to accept subscription payments no matter how far the subscribers are in arrears, and give receipts for same. Votes are given for NEW subscriptions, renewals or arrearages. Votes mean prizes.

Subscriptions are requested to pay the contestants their renewals or arrearages; they may feel perfectly free to do so, for the proper credit will be given at the Times office, and the contest will get votes for every cent paid in, and votes mean prizes.

All communications should be mailed direct to the Campaign Manager. The campaign work is entirely separate from the regular newspaper work, and is handled in a separate department. All ballots issued upon the payment of subscriptions, either new or old, will be mailed to contestants immediately, unless otherwise instructed by the contestant, and the ballots issued will be good to vote at any time during the contest. Contestants when sending in their subscriptions and votes should state whether they want them voted in the paper or returned to be held in reserve. The contestants always govern the voting.

The Times has done what it considered right in the matter and will continue to do so. Impartiality and a fair deal is our motto, and those interested may rest assured that the 15,335 Willys-Knight Automobile and all the rest of the valuable prizes will be given away as advertised, and will go to the contestant actually having the greatest number of votes secured from their subscription canvass. They will positively go to the contestant rightfully entitled to them. The field is filled with bright, hustling, wide-awake candidates, in whom the public is very much interested, and the Times feels that it has struck a popular chord in inaugurating a contest of this kind and carrying it on so successfully and impartially.

Take Notice, Contestants

Don't be governed or even listen to what other candidates or their friends tell you. Oftentimes they will over-estimate in your presence their chances of winning, and the number of votes they are holding in reserve just to discourage you and get you to withdraw. Turn a deaf ear to such "Bluffers." Don't be deceived by allowing such reports to dominate your future. If you do, you will not succeed. Don't lose any time for the next few weeks, and Nov. 29 you will have the occasion to receive the congratulations of your friends that now stand ready to help you for simply the asking.

The vote offer will close tomorrow (Thursday) night. At no future time will an offer be given that will allow as great a number of extra votes. This is positively your best chance, and the writer personally advises all contestants to make the next 24 hours count the strongest of the entire contest. It may be the means of swinging you into the Victor Column.

SPORTS - BASEBALL

The Reds Are Beaten by the Sox in an Extra Inning Contest—Form is Upset at Lexington Yesterday.

BOXING - SPORTSKERR REPEATS HIS STUNT AND AGAIN WALLOPS REDS

Midget Twirler, Lone Star of Gleason Beats Reds in an Extra Inning Contest Thus Lengthening The Annual Classic

(BY JAMES F. BURBA)

Richard Kerr, erstwhile prize fighter, and lone star of the Chicago White Sox, from the State of Texas, yesterday upset that old dope about "history repeating itself, and winning pitcher always gets knocked out the second time he makes his appearance" look like a dime in a bootlegging joint, when he handed the Reds his second drubbing in a 10 inning contest thus stretching the series to seven games, at least.

Fans are prone to believe Kerr is trying to get into the good graces of the magnates by making the series so longer than was absolutely necessary. For had the midget twirler lost his struggle yesterday the Reds would have nailed the old series flag to the mast, and Cincy fans would have torn up the town. As it is they must suppress their enthusiasm until after today's game, maybe.

Not only did the Sox capture the sixth game of the series, but they humiliated one "Dutch" Reuther who proved himself the star of the first game of the classic. They let him journey just six innings, and then displayed those heavy swatters. Reuther was lifted and replaced by Jimmy Ring, who once more is allowing the jinx to follow in his wake. Just as soon as Ring entered the box, the lid went on, and Cincinnati could not case another run across.

Reds Hit Better
The Reds secured more safeties than did the Chicago gang, but they simply could not make the count. Neale slapped one of Kerr's offerings for a triple while Groh, Reuther and Duncan drew extra base swats. With all this swatting, however, the Reds could only force four runs across the platter. Weaver and Folsch of the Sox secured two base hits. Weaver getting a brace of them. Both Reuther and Ring were very wild. Each walked three men, and you know, in a game like yesterday's a walk is just about as good as a single. Kerr allowed two bad hits to stroll safely to first on passes and hit Rousch.

Sox Show Class
Had the Sox played ball the entire series like they played yesterday, there would be a different aspect to the outcome. Gleason with a powerful face looked upon his prospect yesterday morning, and spilled out a lot of sob stuff which must have touched the hearts of his hardened players, for they certainly had loads of jazz instilled in their half-dead bodies in some manner. After the kid had talked like a father to "his boys" he opened up the same sob stuff on the newspaper.

"I don't know what's the matter," said Gleason, "but I do know that something is wrong with my team. The team I had fighting in August on the pennant would have trimmed the Reds without a struggle. The bunch I have now could not beat a high school team. We hit something over 250 for the season in the American League pennant race. Now that's the best hitting any ball club ever did in the history of baseball. The way those 250 hitters acted against Eller they could not make a place on a high school team."

Thinks It's Best
"I am convinced that I have the best ball club that ever was put together. I certainly have been disappointed in it in this series. It has not played baseball in a single game. There is only a bare chance they can win now.

"You know it does not seem possible that this team that worked so great for me all summer could fall down like this. I tell you I am absolutely sick at heart. I thought all of them were my boys. I felt like a school teacher might feel toward his pupils. I loved those boys for the way they fought for me this summer."

Magnates Real Winners

Yea ho, the Sox won yesterday, and Red fans lost a lot of the legal tender, while Garry Herrmann, Mr. Comiskey and others interested will reap a lot of cash on this extra game. The wise fan who lost on the Reds yesterday will stage a comeback today and double his bet, for it is the opinion of dopesters that the Reds will wind up the annual classic by knocking the Sox a curve this afternoon. The largest speculation at the time this page is carried to press is who will be the Sox flinger.

Now, there is Hippo James, who might prove effective. Then there's Urban Faber, who Gandil has touted us to watch. There are Mayer and Wilkinson and Lowdermilk. They might start the game. It is quite probable they could do as well as did Cicotte with his shine ball, and Lefty Williams with his underhand delivery.

At all events we are going to place a frightened buck on the Reds again today in hopes that the series may be capped this afternoon for more reasons than one. Get me?

KID GLEASON AND HIS THREE STARS WHO WERE TO HAVE TAKEN SERIES WITH EASE

Owing to the fact that Dick Kerr, midget twirler of the Sox, was thought to have been the weak link in that club's pitching staff it was deemed unnecessary to have a very large photo of him made. In comparison now, Kerr's cut should be the size of the Flatiron Building, while you should be able to put Cicotte and Williams on a postage stamp and not cancel the stamp.

Oh, boy, they kinda' walloped us yesterday, didn't they.

That club house lecture Gleason handed his men yesterday morning certainly had some effect upon the players.

We are yet endeavoring to dope out just how the Reds lost that contest.

Eleven hits, the Reds made, and three errors the Sox made, but still the men of Moran could not get enough runs.

Perhaps the Sox have contaminated the Reds.

Saith the Sage of Hawg Crick: "You can save yourself a lot of trouble by not borrowing any."

We still contend Dick Kerr is Gleason's lone star from the Texas state.

If the Reds play another game like they did yesterday, we are going to save our money and buy an overcoat.

And dope says a pitcher after winning his first game of the series can not come back and win again.

Reuther says this dope is right, and Kerr says it all wrong.

Both men are absolutely right.

Again we must say, we wish Kerr had continued to dwell in Fistania and left base ball alone.

Maybe Moran gave his Reds a club house lecture this morning.

Let's hope it has the same effect.

It seems like base ball is remaining in taking a wonderful lot of encores.

Foot ball and basket ball are really remaining in the wings.

Receipts Record Broken Yesterday

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8.—All previous records for the world's series receipts for a single game were shattered yesterday when 32,006 persons paid $101,768 to witness the sixth game, thus bringing receipts up to $583,896.

The new high mark in receipts was made possible by the charging of more money per seat than at any former series, the box seats selling for $6 each.

The players share in the receipts for the first five games only of the series.

THE CLOSEST RACE

An Englishman, a Scotchman and an Irishman were indulging in reminiscences of sporting occasions.

"The closest race I ever saw was a yacht race," deposed the Englishman, "in which one of the boats that had been recently painted won by the breath of the coat of paint."

"The closest race I ever saw," declared the Scotchman, "was one in which a horse, stung by a bee, won by the height of the swelling on his nose."

"The closest race I ever saw," said the Irishman, "is the Scotch." —Exchange

When Top Choices Are Sent Down To Defeat at Kentucky Trotting Track.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 8.—After one day's postponement on account of rain Grand Circuit racing was resumed here yesterday afternoon, and it was marked by a series of surprises, not one of the four first choices being able to secure the winner's portion.

The biggest upset came in the day's feature race, the Phoenix Hotel Prize, $3,000 for fast pacers, since it marked the second defeat this year for Direct C. Burnett, the leading money winning wiggler, which was favorite at $300 against $160 for Grace Direct, $95 for Roy Grattan and $20 for the field. Grace Direct won after Frank Dowe had taken the first heat.

Johnny Quirk was an even money favorite for the 2:06 pace, but Direct the Work, locally owned and trained by J. A. McAllister, won.

The Ace was favorite for the 2:12 trot, but did not win a heat, Jess Y winning the first two and D. J. Burke the third.

Pop Geers with Home Fast won the pacing futurity seat, shattering the hopes and bank rolls of the backers of Julius DeForest, which cold $50 to $20.

Peter Manning, the three-year-old bay gelding by Azot, dam Glendora by Emmett Grattan, which trotted to a time record of 2:06 1/2 here last week, now is a member of Thomas W. Murphy's string. The Poughkeepsie reinsman bought him from W. M. Wright, of Chicago, for $21,000.

REDS CONFIDENT THEY WILL CAPTURE STRUGGLE TODAY

It is Probable Cicotte Will Be Given His Third Opportunity to Display His Ability Against Mighty Reds

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 8.—Fighting with their backs to the wall, but hopeful despite their four defeats, the White Sox will meet the Reds today in the seventh game of the world's series. The Reds and the $2,000 fans who witnessed yesterday's ten-inning battle felt confident that the contest would be the decisive one and that before night the men of Moran would be proclaimed baseball champions of the world.

Before the game started it was believed that Manager Gleason of the Sox would send Eddie Cicotte, rated as the master pitcher of the American League, to the mound to face the Redlegs. Cicotte tried to stop them twice and failed, but Gleason has every confidence that he can master the Reds if his arm is in perfect condition. It is possible, however, that "Big Bill" James may be Gleason's eleventh hour choice.

Supporters of the Reds believed that "Slim" Sallee would be Manager Moran's pitching selection. Sallee scored the Reds' second victory of the series and is declared to be ready to take his turn on the pitching mound again.

All Cincinnati is getting ready to celebrate the expected victory of the Reds and there was a wild rush today to get tickets for this afternoon's contest. The sale opened last night and hundreds stood in line for hours awaiting a chance to purchase choice box and grand-stand seats. If the Sox are victorious in today's contest, the teams will have to return to Chicago for the eighth game Thursday.

After yesterday's victory, Manager Gleason declared the Sox had at last hit their championship stride, and although beaten in four of the six games, were far from out of the race. The Sox seemed to be fired with a new fighting spirit which they hoped, would turn the tide of defeat into victory.

SOUSA'S BAND HAS LARGE AUDIENCE AND DESERVED IT

Concert at Memorial Hall is Just as Entertaining as Usual.

MANY NEW NUMBERS

But the Old Ones, After All,
Get the Heartiest
Applause.

Sampson may have been shorn of his pluck hitting power when he visited the barber, but John Philip Sousa, idol of all Americans who love music and don't care whether it is "high-brow" or not, just as long as it is snappy and full of pep, hasn't suffered because his haircut had been separated from his face.

Tuesday night an audience that crowded Memorial Hall to its doors heard the noted bandmaster in his first appearance here since before the war and if there was a man, woman or child who failed to appreciate the program given by Sousa and his band that person must surely have been both deaf and blind.

Better than Ever

For Sousa and his band are both just a little bit better than ever. There is a snap, a precision to the band's playing this year that is just a wee bit more pronounced than ever before. Certainly none of the "swing" of the marches is absent.

There were new numbers on the program, of course the most of the regular numbers were new, but for encore the March King played the old favorites, El Capitan, the Stars and Stripes Forever, Manhattan Beach and the rest of those undying, snappy, peppy marches that are so distinctly American that one knows instantly, with the first note, that it is the expression of the greatest country on earth.

Sousa's appearance could hardly be changed more, now that he is minus the beard that has always featured his well-known face. But he is the same John Philip Sousa, and those who love his bows were in their element last night. No conductor or bandmaster bows just like Sousa. He takes his time, steps down off the pedestal and gracefully acknowledges the hearty applauding of his audience. It is a distinctive Sousa bow and it is given in Lima just as it was in the Hippodrome the season the big band broke all records there. And, too, the Sousa encores are all given so promptly that the audience appreciates the bandmaster's quick responses. The impression is given that Sousa enjoys the popularity of his band and wants to give his patrons every number possible.

Many New Numbers

There were many new Sousa numbers and those who have the impression that the gifted composer can only bring forth marches should have heard his memorial, "The Golden Star," dedicated to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and composed in memory of the brave who gave their lives that Liberty shall not perish," as the program states. Unfortunately the writer is not a musical critic (or fortunately, as

25 Years Ago

Items taken from Times-Democrat quarter century ago today.

Oct. 8, 1894
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Secorders a son;—and to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleck, a son;—Cincinnati Reds won against the Lima team yesterday, score 8 to 5;—Henry J. Bourk left last night to visit in New York;—Mrs. George Taylor and son, Joe, have returned from an extended visit to England;—Engineers James McMahon of the C. H. and D. has moved his family from Dayton and is living at 785 North Main street.

They seem always to be seeking a way to take the joy out of the music but certainly it requires no gift to appreciate this wonderful number.

"Bullets and Bayonets" was one of the most popular of the new marches. But the old favorite, "The Stars and Stripes Forever" was the one that caused the house to shake with the vociferous applause.

Frank Simon, cornettist, is just as good as ever, which is saying enough; Miss Florence Hardman, the violinist, is superb, and Miss Mary Baker, soprano, delighted with her numbers.

But after all if you have attended a Sousa and his Band Concert you know just what we are trying to tell you. It was that kind of a concert.

W. R. I. DISCUSSED AT LEGION MEET

Nothing of vast importance came before the Paul Gallagher Post of the American Legion which met in regular bi-monthly session at Memorial Hall. The matter of converting war risk insurance was discussed, and the question of legislation authorizing the payment of $75.00 per month back pay to all soldiers, sailors and marines for the time they were in service during the emergency occasioned by the war with Germany was taken up.

Hereafter the Post will hold its meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month and it is hoped that all former service men will at least attend one of the meetings, and learn something of the advantages offered by the organization. This is an all-American organization free of political bias, and intended to promulgate thorough Americanism throughout the land.

W. H. Gallant of 1291-2 West High street was appointed to give information regarding the conversion of war-risk insurance. Settlement for more than fifty claims, involving more than three million dollars have been adjusted by the legion in the state of Ohio alone, according to Capt. J. J. Saslavsky, in charge of the department.

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York: Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or sniff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit-forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison which, when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests. Read aloud one full page from a book. If, in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that your heart smokes, chew or sniff to your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process irrespective of the dangers and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note—When asked about Nicotol tablets, one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including the Enterprise Drug Store, Huntoon's Drug Store.

ROTARIANS RAISE LARGE FUND FOR BOY SCOUT WORK

Organization Will Sponsor
New Central Organization in Lima.

TO EMPLOY SECRETARY

Vigorous Campaign Will be Put On to Boost Boys'
Work Here.

Lima Rotary Club, which has given its financial and moral support to many worth while public movements, has gotten back of the Boy Scouts in Lima and a quiet solicitation among the members of the club has resulted in the raising of about $3,600 to carry on the re-organization work in this city.

Walter M. Kiplinger, of New York, one of the traveling representatives of the Boy Scouts of America, recently visited this city and made an earnest appeal to the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon to get behind the movement in this city and finance it to the point that the plans of the officials of the great boys' organization could be carried out.

The response of the Rotarians was immediate and this week solicitation was quietly made, the members being given a pro-rata part of the total amount needed, running from $10 to $50. Not a Rotarian failed to contribute the amount set out beside his name.

Central Organization

Boys' work has come to be recognized as most important. The boy of today is the man of tomorrow and in the past the boy has been allowed to grow into any manner of man that chance makes of him.

The Boy Scout plan is to thoroughly organize the boys' work of a city. Here in Lima a secretary will be employed, a high class, trained worker who will be paid a salary of $2,100 a year. He will take charge of all work among the boys, including a complete re-organization of all the Boy Scout troops in the city. The troops will be cemented into one big organization, although each troop will retain all its individuality.

$1,200 additional, besides the salary of the secretary, will be provided to pay for office help and incidental expenses.

Keep Boys Busy

All sorts of recreational and worthwhile work will be provided for the boys of Lima.

An interesting feature of the vigorous campaign put on for the Boy Scouts is that the Catholics of the country have gotten back of the movement and high officials of the church are busy organizing troops among the boys of hundreds of parishes.

Here in Lima Monsignor Manning, in a speech at the Rotary Club, gave his hearty approval of the starting of the boys' work in Lima. It will not be denominational and all churches will take their part. Many ministers have endorsed the movement and are anxious to see it begin.

Great Thing for Lima

The right kind of work among boys will be a great thing for Lima and a wonderful help to the boys and members of the Lima Rotary Club will find in after years that their generosity has been bountifully repaid.

LOEWENSTEIN SALE WAS BIG SUCCESS

The great success scored by the big closing out sale put on for Leon Loewenstein, Public Square merchant, has attracted more than ordinary attention.

Mr. Loewenstein contracted with the D. Horpe and Orr company, of Chicago, to conduct the big event and close out his stock. The Horpe company believes in lavish, yet judicious use of space, and they used a great volume of space in the three Lima newspapers letting the great public of Northwestern Ohio know what was going on.

The sale resulted in tremendous crowds being drawn to the store, and at many different times it was necessary to close the doors to allow those inside to finish their trading.

A marked feature of the sale was that despite the fact that the temperature registered in the nineties, overcoats by the dozens were sold.

The local management of the sale is in the hands of F. L. Orr, and the successful sale reflects his efficient merchandising and advertising ability.

EXPERT BELIEVES LIMA WILL BENEFIT BY NEW PAVING

Lima will have the distinction of being the first city in the middle west to have a street laid with the new composition, "Willite," according to information given out this afternoon by W. W. Medill, one of the widest known paving experts in country, who is in Lima today inspecting the materials, to be used in the paving of Oak street, the Findlay Lima road, and the Lima-Spancerville road.

Mr. Medill is known throughout this country, and some of the largest paving contracts have been completed under his supervision. This expert arrived in Lima from Buffalo, coming there from Canada where he has been inspecting certain paving contracts.

It is the belief of Mr. Medill that Lima will be entirely satisfied with the new paving, as only materials passed by himself will be placed in the asphalt to be used. In order to demonstrate this statement Medill said he ordered the local contractor to have certain amount of a special variety of sand shipped in to strengthen the material.

The paving which will be placed in Lima and Allen county will be a standard by which other work secured through this session of the county will be judged, he said. This being the case, he continued, it is quite probable the paving done will be of the highest order, and Lima will benefit greatly.

VIOLATOR FINED

Guy Schmitt, of St. Marys, Ohio, was fined $5.00 in Police Court Wednesday for parking his car in the prohibited zone at North Main and High streets.

BIG DRIVE ON FOR CHILD'S WELFARE ASSOCIATION NOW

Will Be Short Whirlwind
Campaign for New Membership.

RIVALRY IS INTENSE

Penny Milk Lunch Plan is to Be Started if Funds are Raised.

The big thing of this week in circles philanthropic is the drive of the Allen County Child Welfare Association for memberships to begin on Thursday and continue throughout the day in the city. Already a good natured rivalry is on among the leaders at the various schools, where last year some of the most successful work was accomplished. Headquarters have been fixed at No. 220 West High street, and an official telephone installed, Main 6953.

There is probably not a citizen of Lima who does not know of the continued good work done by this organization, and who even if he had no children of his own, but has a kindly feeling for the little future citizens, many of whom would pass out or become useless and expensive words of the community were it not for this work of the Child Welfare organization with its rural nurse, its playgrounds at schools and parks, its constant visits among the indigent and needy, and now is contemplated drive against malnutrition and all its attendant evils.

One of the first innovations of the association this winter will be to try out the penny milk lunch idea in connection with the schools which has proved so popular at other points. One or two stands will be installed at first as an experiment. To the committee of last year—Mesdames E. A. Williams Jr., John

W. Roby and S. M. Williams of Lakewood avenue, have been added this year Mrs. Frank C. Bell and Mrs. George Metheny; and these will be in charge of the membership drive. A local woman, very prominent in Lima philanthropic circles will be named as general chairman of the milk lunch fund idea, and the entire machinery of the Child Welfare Association will be in action in the interests of the organization work on Thursday.
